

Jesus Enters Jerusalem: QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK

WRM Season 3 Session 7

NOTE: Questions of the Week originated with a three-fold purpose. 1. They provide the Christian Educator an opportunity to send out a weekly email to parents that not only includes the Question of the Week, but can also provide information about the current WRM session and upcoming church calendar events. 2. Questions of the Week bring Sunday morning into the middle of the week (I usually send the Question of the Week email on Wednesday) by encouraging parents and their children to talk about the current WRM story. 3. To begin each class with the Question of the Week allows the students, teacher and shepherd an opportunity to get to know each other and provides a low-stress way to practice sharing.

Please use however you see fit.

Questions of the Week

Week 1: In the story that we're reading this week, Jesus' disciples are praising God. To praise someone means to tell them what a good job they are doing and to thank them for doing that good job. What is something that you have been praised for lately?

Week 2: In the story that we're reading this week, Jesus' disciples are having a parade and praising God. They are being loud. The Pharisees come to tell Jesus to tell his disciples to be quiet. Jesus' answer is that, basically, "Now is a really good time to be loud." When is it a really good time for you to be loud and noisy and joyous?

Week 3: In the story that we're reading this week, Jesus clears out the Temple of merchants because they aren't supposed to be there. When you clean your room, have you ever found things that weren't supposed to be there? If yes, what things did you find and where did you then put them?
